6. Collaboration Prize to Honor Successful Nonprofit Collaborations Deadline: July 21, 2008 The Lodestar Foundation (<http://www.lodestarfoundation.org/>) and its partner organizations have announced the creation of the Collaboration Prize to recognize collaborations among two or more nonprofit organizations that each would otherwise provide the same or similar programs or services and compete for clients, financial resources, and staff. The prize program also seeks to build an information base of effective practice models that can be studied and used by academics, nonprofit leaders, and grant-makers to inspire and advance their work. For the purposes of the prize, collaboration means joint programming, administrative consolidations, or mergers among two or more organizations that would otherwise compete. To be eligible, a collaboration must involve two or more nonprofit organizations that each would otherwise provide the same or similar programs or services; have a structure that is evidenced by a formal agreement that uses the resources of each party in a more effective way (this agreement could be a memorandum of understanding, a letter of agreement, a contract, or a merger agreement); and have begun operation at least eighteen months prior to nomination and have been in existence no longer than eight years prior to the date of nomination. The collaboration or each participant must be registered as a 501(c)(3) organization and be located in the United States. The prize of $250,000 will be awarded to the winning collaboration. Although the award must be used for charitable purposes, there are no specific requirements for its use. Nominations may be made by individuals who are familiar with the collaboration but are not an employee of any organization involved. Complete prize program information is available at the Collaboration Prize Web site. RFP
