9. Public-Private Collaborative Announces Program to Empower Older People to Take More Control of Their Health

Deadline: August 31, 2006

The United States Department of Health and Human Services (<http://www.hhs.gov/>) has announced a $15 million collaboration with Atlantic Philanthropies (<http://atlanticphilanthropies.org/>) to improve the health and quality of life for older Americans at the community level.

Led by the Administration on Aging (<http://www.aoa.gov/>), the partnership is designed to empower older people to take more control of their own health through life style and behavioral changes that have proven effective in reducing the risk of disease and disability among the elderly.

HHS will support efforts in up to twelve states to mobilize public/private partnerships that support the delivery of evidence-based programs for seniors at the community level through nonprofit aging services provider organizations such as senior centers, nutrition programs, senior housing projects, and faith-based organizations. AoA plans to fund up to twelve cooperative agreements totaling up to $300,000 per project, per annum, for a three-year period, subject to the availability of funds. A 25 percent match will be required.

State Aging Agencies and State Health Departments may apply for these grants. Only one application may be submitted by a state.

In addition, through a grant of up to $5 million to the Center for Healthy Aging, Atlantic Philanthropies will provide additional financial support and technical assistance in up to five states that show significant potential in developing systems to reach large numbers of older adults. A separate application and selection process will be used for these awards.

For more information and the program announcement ("Empowering Older People to Take More Control of Their Health Through Evidence-Based Prevention Programs: A Public/Private Partnership Grants Program"), see the AoA Web site. RFP Link: <http://fconline.foundationcenter.org/pnd/10003719/aoa>

10. Iowa West Foundation Accepting Grant Applications From Organizations in Southwest Iowa and Eastern Nebraska

Deadline: October 2, 2006 (Requests for Applications)

The mission of the Iowa West Foundation (<http://www.iowawestfoundation.org/>) is to improve lives and strengthen communities for future generations. The foundation does this by providing leadership, creating partnerships, leveraging resources, and serving as a catalyst in identifying and supporting community needs.

IWRA distributes funds to the foundation, which is an independent 501(c)(3) organization that makes grants in southwest Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

The foundation has four primary areas of interest: community development and beautification; economic development; education; and human and social needs.

To be eligible, an applicant must be an IRS-approved tax-exempt nonprofit under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as described in 501(c)(3), or a school (applying via AEA-13) or other government entity.

The foundation's geographic focus is southwest Iowa and eastern Nebraska, the primary focus being Council Bluffs and Pottawattamie County, with a secondary focus on contiguous counties.
