

1. March 28, 2008 -- Older Americans are living longer, and with more money, than previous generations, according to a new government report on aging. The report, Older Americans 2008: Key Indicators of Well-Being, comes from the Federal Interagency Forum on Aging-Related Statistics.

It predicts that there will be 71.5 million people aged 65 and older in the U.S. in 2030 -- twice as many as in 2000 -- because of the aging baby boomers and greater life expectancy. Indicators include population, economics, healthcare, health risks and behaviors, literacy and health literacy and others
